

There was a time when Jesus spent the whole day speaking to a very large crowd of people – more than 5,000 were listening to Him speak (think something like the crowd at Adams Park watching Wycombe Wanderers). At the end of the day everyone was hungry and needed food, but there were no shops nearby. With the help of one small boy, Jesus did an amazing miracle to provide the crowd with the food that they needed.

Do you think the World Record for eating the most Big Mac's in a lifetime is a good decision?!

If you could set a World Record, what would you do?
